Getting Back To Nature

Summer vacation days are practically over and boys and girls, youths and maidens are getting back to their school books and studies while father returns to his office or store and mother to her varied household activities. If these vacation days have been sanely and sensibly spent the result is that those who have enjoyed them go back to their studies or work refreshed in mind and body, physically strengthened, more alert mentally, and in every way better fitted for the duties that lie ahead, with stored up energy from the life-giving rays of the sun to carry them through the shorter winter days.

A well spent vacation, however, means more than this, especially for the young. There is no period, no one month or day throughout life when our education is complete, when we are not learning something, absorbing some new and possibly lasting impressions, storing up additional information, gaining in knowledge. Because for a few weeks or months we abandon the school room and text books for a camp in the woods, or a motor trip, or a sojourn in the mountains or by the sea, does not imply that during such time our education comes to a full stop. Quite the reverse is true.

Indeed, living for a few weeks in a summer cottage by one of our lovely western prairie lakes, boating, bathing, fishing, rambling through the woods by day, watching the glorious sunsets and beautiful dawns, lazily contemplating the star-besprinkled sky at night, living the simple life, both in food and dress, one is inclined seriously to question whether in this intense, highly organized, mechanical age, we are not beginning to lose some of the best things in life, and to substitute the artificial for the natural.

For example, are not those responsible for our educational system, the training of our boys and girls for their life work, not missing something very vital and important in their programme of studies? Nowadays we take a boy or girl at the age of six or seven and introduce him and her to the great realm of books. Thus early in life we open up a new world to them, and from that time onward the tendency is for them to turn only to books, or to their teachers using text books, as the source of all information. Boys and girls may thus become great students of books, but they lose the greater pleasures, the romance, the fine inspiration which comes from the study and observation of nature itself and the wonderful works of nature.

The writer confesses that he always liked the ideas and ideals and programme back of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides movements, the training of youth in the art of close observation, of learning by doing. We like the idea of our Canadian boys and girls obtaining a knowledge of our flowers and trees, our birds and beetles and flies, yes, even our weeds, from nature itself rather than from books; we like them to recognize the evening star, and the dipper, and the north star in the great space of the sky overhead rather than in a diagram in a text book; we prefer they should know how to build a trustworthy footbridge over a stream they may have to cross rather than be forced to go miles out of their way to find a concrete or steel structure; we like to see them capable of starting a camp fire in a few minutes, cooking their own food, setting up a tent, making a bed with boughs, leaves and a blanket or two; we admire a boy using an axe expertly. Book knowledge should come; it must come; it is absolutely essential. But are we not making the mistake of relying almost wholly on books in our task of education and neglecting the great outdoors and the wonderful works which nature alone presents to us? Is not the early education of our Canadian boys and girls too academic in character, and not quite practical enough?

Nature study in all its many branches is much more interesting to the average boy and girl in their earlier years than is book study, and the lessons they learn from nature will remain with them when much book learning is forgotten. Furthermore, the traits and characteristics developed through close contact with, and study of nature's own methods, are traits and characteristics which create habits of observation and initiative that will be found invaluable in life, irrespective of the profession or business in which one may ultimately engage, and they are real assets which are not so easily found within the covers of books.

Canada is a land of beauty and variety. Nature has been bountiful in her gifts to the Canadian people. It behooves us, therefore, to give our boys and girls every opportunity to observe, study and appreciate these beauties, to live and learn among and from them. Vacation days are happy days, but they are also, in the writer's humble opinion, among the most valuable of all our days of learning. There should be a way found to fit them more closely into our educational system.

Receives Appointment

Capt. Burgess Appointed Private Secretary To Minister Of Agriculture

Announcement was made recently of the appointment of Captain D. L. Burgess, M.C., farmer at MacDowell, Sask., as private secretary to Hon. Robert Weir, newly appointed Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Burgess is prominently identified with livestock circles in the province, having been fieldman for the Saskatchewan Co-operative Livestock Pool for some time. He unsuccessfully opposed ex-Premier King in the 1920 by-election.

No Reciprocity

British War Veterans Will Have To Pay $10 Visa Fee

Eighteen British war veterans, coming to the United States for a convention next month, will be required to pay the usual $10 visa fee each, despite Great Britain's courtesy a few years ago in admitting several hundred American Legionnaires without charge.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, was informed in a note made public recently that the State Department regretted its inability to comply with his request for a blank visa, but that the law gave it no alternative. A formal reciprocal agreement would be necessary, the State Department informed Sir Ronald.

Makes Air Record

Pilot In Northern Alberta Flew 1,500 Miles In One Day, Making Five Stops

The latest of many air records in Northern Alberta was recorded the other day when Captain W. N. Sherlock, of Commercial Airways, flew 1,500 miles one day, making five stops en route for the delivery of letters and packages. The trip was made from Fort McMurray to Aklavik, with stops at Fort Resolution, Fort Simpson, Fort Norman, Fort McPherson and Arctic Red River. Captain Sherlock hails from Cumberland, England, and is a former member of the R.A.F.

Bright Eyes, Rosy Cheeks

The Birthright Of Every Girl

Dull eyes mean misery and weakness—a sure sign of a bloodless condition. Anemic girls and women have dull, heavy eyes with dark lines underneath. The bright eyed girl or woman is always happy and well.

There is one way to make the eyes bright—to bring the glow of health to pale cheeks—that is to invigorate the body with new blood—rich, red health-giving blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this and they do it well. Concerning them Mrs. Robert Devitt, Brougham, Ont., says: "My daughter became so ill and nervous we had to take her out of school. She was pale and thin; her eyes were dull and the least exertion upset her. I began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in less than six months you would not know her. She gained in weight and strength and is now the picture of health."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Test Dirigible Possibilities

Series Of Flights Between England and Egypt This Winter

Commercial possibilities of British dirigibles will be tested in a series of flights between England and Egypt this winter, according to Sir John F. A. Higgins, of the British Air Ministry, who was in Ottawa, recently.

The durability of the R-100 was amply demonstrated in its trip to Canada, he said, but data on costs of operating a regular service must be obtained.

A Belated Message

Message Sent By Arctic Explorer 28 Years Ago Has Been Found

A cork flask containing a message written in 1902, by Evelyn Briggs Baldwin, leader of a United States exploring expedition to Franz Joseph Land, was found by a member of the Soviet Arctic expedition to the same northern country. The message, discovered 28 years late, asks that shipment be rushed of fuel, sleds, dogs and food.

Baldwin was leader of the Baldwin-Ziegler expedition, which, in 1902, established a base in Franz Joseph Land for an attempt to reach the North Pole.

Beautifying Stations

The campaign launched this season by the Canadian National Railways in the beautifying of its station grounds, was a successful move. With a result that a larger appropriation will be considered for this work next year, A. A. Tisdale, general manager, announced.

Friend—And what is your son going to be when he passes his final exam?

Father—An old man.

Menace To Motoring Public

Outworn Car Is Becoming Peril On Modern Highway

The "One Horse Shay," made famous by Oliver Wendell Holmes, ran its course and then suddenly disappeared into atomic dust. Old cars are not as successfully disposed of, and unless some used-car dealer wins the gratitude of the motoring public by committing them to the junk pile they continue to obstruct traffic on the highway until they collapse in a heap of scrap at the roadside.

There is nothing romantic, uncanny or even interesting about the final chapter of the outworn car. Too often there is tragedy in the concluding lives.

The old, out-of-date, decrepit gas wagon is more than a problem—it's a peril.

It now costs $25 in Old London to impede traffic by trying to operate an old car that should be on the junk heap. Public opinion will eventually ban such vehicles from our busiest highways, for they are certainly a menace not only to the owners, but to the motoring public as well.

Replaced the Breakage

Elderly Woman Is Made Happy By Gift Of Prince

Miss Raymond, an elderly and humble resident of the south of London, has been made happy by a kindly act of the Prince of Wales.

She lives in a hotel in the neighborhood of the cricket ground where the Prince went to attend the England-Australia match.

During an interval in the play the Prince and a party of friends visited the hotel, and one of the old lady's vases accidentally was overthrown and broken.

The next day the Prince sent a colored statuette of himself in hunting costume, accompanied by a letter regretting the breakage, and hoping that she would accept the substitute instead.

Another Myth Exploded

Just another myth—those stories of the former kaiser's wood chopping. On the word of T. St. John Gaffney, formerly of the United States consular service, who has just returned from a visit to Doorn, it's the guests who chop the wood while Wilhelm tosses it into a barn loft. And tea is served throughout.

London's City Remembrancer has to investigate all prospective legislation and call to the attention of a special committee all legislation affecting the City of London.

4 Years without HEADACHE

How do you deal with headaches? Do you just take something to deaden the pain without getting rid of the trouble which causes the pain? Thousands do, despite the medical profession's warning cry of "DON'T!" Such makeshift methods simply suppress the symptoms of headaches. They merely numb the nerves and leave the underlying cause to look after itself. And it only obtains a firmer grip. Headaches can generally be traced to a disordered stomach and to the unsuppressed retention in the system of stagnating waste material which poisons the blood. Remove these poisons—prevent them forming again—and you'll never have to worry any more. And that is just how Kruschen Salts bring swift and lasting relief from headaches. Kruschen Salts aid Nature to cleanse your body completely of all clogging waste matter.

"For many years I suffered from severe headaches almost daily. I started taking the small dose (of Kruschen) a matter of four years ago, and I can honestly say I have never had a headache since."—(Mrs. M. W.)

A Wonderful Man

Sir Wilfred Grenfell "Father" Of Labrador Is Well Named

That wonderful man, Sir Wilfred Thomason Grenfell, K.C.M.G., "father" of Labrador, will shortly be visiting London, when a Mansion House meeting will be held in his honor.

A doctor by profession, he has a passionate love for the sea, and has done much for the benefit of North Sea fishermen.

In 1892 he went to Labrador, where he built five hospitals, seven nursing stations, two orphanages, two large schools, several co-operative stores, in addition to setting on foot much industrial work. In short, he has completely revolutionized Labrador.

Although 65, he still takes an annual cruise in one of his hospital steamers along the Northern Newfoundland and Labrador coasts. His work in Labrador is carried on under four committees, one British, one Canadian, one Newfoundland, and one American.

He is an Oxford man, and played for the university in the Rugby football team. In 1929 he became Lord Rector of St. Andrews University.

Almond flavoring.
½ cupful milk.
½ teaspoonful baking powder.
Pinch of salt.
Flour.

Cream sugar with the butter; add the beaten egg yolk, milk, salt, and flavoring. Sift baking powder with 1 cupful of flour. Add more flour until a dough is formed that is easily handled. Roll quite thin, cut in strips, then twist and form in circles.

Place in a moderate oven and bake until the pulp is soft, basting occasionally with a little hot water and butter. When nearly done sprinkle lightly with brown sugar and dot with butter. Finish baking and serve a square to each person.

Chain Letters

New Flood Of Chain Letters Cause Trouble To Postal Authorities

London postal authorities are again fighting a new flood of chain letters. The latest of them begins with the names of Charles Lindbergh, Colonel Dawes, Bernard Shaw, John Barrymore, Dorothy Dix and Ramsay MacDonald. By the letter, one is given to understand that all these celebrated people have written nine letters to nine other people. A subtle threat of sudden death to anyone who fails to carry on the chain is hidden in the wording.

British Rule In India

What England Has Done and Can Do For People Of That Country

"Downeaster" writes as follows in the Canadian Churchman: The achievements of England in India during the last century, I think I may safely say, constitute one of the brightest pages in the history of our race and Empire. Like all human records, it is not of course without its blot. But I think it has on the whole fully justified Macaulay's closing words in his celebrated essay on the character and work of Lord Clive, "If in India the yoke of foreign masters, elsewhere the heaviest of all yokes, has been found lighter than that of any native dynasty, if that gang of public robbers that once spread terror through the whole plain of Bengal has been succeeded by a body of functionaries not more highly distinguished by ability and diligence than by integrity, disinterestedness and public spirit, if we see men like Munro, Elphinstone and Metcalfe, after leading victorious armies and deposing kings, return proud of their honorable poverty, the praise is in no small measure due to Clive." But to me, and I believe to the great majority of Britons throughout the Empire, England's noblest achievements in this connection will be the gradual fitting of the inhabitants of the Indian peninsula for self-government and should the event demand it, ultimate independence.

New Finger Print Method

System To Be Adopted By Police Forces Of America and Europe

The new method of classifying and coding finger-prints, the invention of Chief Inspector Battley, which has revolutionized the system at Scotland Yard, is to be adopted by the police forces of America and Europe.

Chief Inspector Harry Battley is the head of the fingerprint department of Scotland Yard.

The world-wide adoption of this new method will mean that an international classification will come into existence whereby an officer will be able within two minutes to pick out his man from the millions of fingerprints in the various police headquarters.

By the old method ten impressions of a criminal's fingerprint were kept in the records. The new method enables identification from a single print, by the use of a special glass.

The Oyster Holds Undisputed Claim To This Honor

The world's egg-laying record, 25,000 in one second, 115,000,000 in 70 minutes, 690,000,000 in a year—all by a female oyster—is claimed by the oyster.

The feat was reported to a gathering of biologists, of international repute, civic, state and federal health authorities and shellfish commissioners from several states at the convention of the National Association of Shellfish Commissioners and the Oyster Growers and Dealers Association of North America, Inc.

Town & District

The new C. P. R. schedule comes into effect Sunday next.

The fellows who got in their potatoes Monday may consider themselves lucky.

A few pretty good yields of oats are reported in different localities of this district.

S. R. Swenson of Gleichen Jewellery Store has accepted the position as manager of T. Eaton Co. jewelry remanufacturer in Calgary and left for there last week.

The snow and sleet Tuesday morning effectively stopped all threshing in the district and it will be some days before the stookes will be sufficiently dry to proceed with operations again.

Mr. Joseph Haynes of Mayfield, Derbyshire, England, has for several weeks been visiting his sister, Mrs. W. H. James, of Gleichen, whom he has not met for many years. While here he visited a number of places and went to Brockton, where he met his brother, Rev. Canon Haynes, the first time in 25 years. He leaves this week on his return trip to his home in England.

St. Andrew's Church was filled to capacity Sunday night by friends to listen to the Rev. F. M. Ross Gibney deliver his farewell sermon, who gave a very interesting talk. He leaves within the next few days with Mrs. Gibney, and family to take charge of the Sarcee Indian mission work.

BABY'S PILLOW

It should not be there! So say experts on good posture, who have been examining the round shoulders of the rising generation. Mothers may not be aware that a child with round shoulders has diminished chest capacity, and lessened strength in consequence. Mother explains this condition by telling of rapid growth and forgets that it is really due to a bad habit of poor posturing. There is no greater aid to good health than to acquire good posture. It has a mental as well as a physical value, for a fine bearing helps a lad through life both at school and in business.

Look at Billy when he comes out of his tub. Are his shoulder blades protruding when he stands sideways toward you? If so they are not quite right and Billy must be given some good setting up exercises every day. Let Billy's mother do them herself for a few minutes with the children in the morning. She must take time for it is of the highest importance to have backbone, and shoulder blades just right.

Baby does not need any pillow in his cot and his bed clothes must not press too tightly at the bottom. Let the feet move freely and there's an excellent book of Good Posture offered free to parents by the Red Cross, 407 Civic Block, Edmonton, Send for your copy today.
